

YOUNGEST SAILORS PRESENTED OCEAN BLUE TROPHY AT NATIONAL INLAND OPTIMIST SAILING CHAMPIONSHIP 2010

Pune, India; December 29, 2010: Ocean Blue, India's largest Boating group, today announced that it has presented the Ocean Blue Trophy to the youngest sailors at the recently concluded 'National Inland Optimist Championship 2010'.

Organized by IWSA (Inland Windsurfing & Sailing Academy), the championship was held in Pune after a gap of nearly 4 years. The national level sailing competition for young sailors of the country saw a participation of over 50 sailors from all over India. With a total of 10 races organized over 3 days, the final race and prize distribution was held on 28th December at the Khadakvasala lake in Pune.

Ecstatic with his accomplishment, Master Navyn Prabhakar - the youngest sailor in the championship said, "I love sailing and I am very happy with the award". The youngest sailor trophy in the Girls category was received by Ms. Ramya Saravanan.

"We believe that events like this championship will give a much needed impetus to the upcoming sporting talent in India," commented Dr. Malav Shroff of Ocean Blue on hosting the youngest sailors' trophy. "We would like to support the young sailors in every way possible and congratulate all the youngsters in their excellent demonstration of highly competitive sailing."

About Ocean Blue:

Ocean Blue is India's largest boating group with diverse interests across dealerships, charters, marina development & management, yacht management services and interests in leisure & commercial boat manufacturing.

For Further details contact:

Leena Sapre
Leena.sapre@oceanblue.in
M: +91 99204 55227

Radhika Jhaveri
radhika.jhaveri@oceanblue.in
M: +91 99675 41914